

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE

VOL. XXXI, NO. 46.

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1946.

$2.00 PER ANNUM

"Serve the Church that the Church
May Serve You."

CENTRAL UNITED CHURCH
BLAIRMORE

Rev. E. B. Arrol, B.A., Minister

Sunday services—

11.00 a.m., Senior school.

2.00 p.m., Junior school.

7.30 p.m., Public Worship.

Wednesday, 7.30 p.m., Prayer service.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, BLAIRMORE

Rev. J. R. Hague, A.Th., Incumbent

Services Sunday next:

10 a.m., Sunday School.

11 a.m., Holy Communion.

REGULAR BAPTISTS

Rev. J. W. MacDonald, Minister.

In the Union hall: Services Sundays: 11 a.m., Senior and Junior Sunday school.

7.30 p.m., Song service; 7.45, evening worship.

Thursday, 7.30 p.m., Prayer and Bible study.

Service in Frank 2 p.m. Sundays. You are cordially invited to our services.

SALVATION ARMY, COLEMAN

Capt. F. Watson — Lieut. G. Pitch

Services:

10.30 a.m., Y. P. Directory Class.

11.00 a.m., Holiness Meeting.

5.00 p.m., Sunday School.

7.30 p.m., Salvation Meeting.

Tuesday: 7.30 p.m., Red Shield Auxiliary and Home League.

Thursday: 8 p.m., Praise Meeting, Weddings, funerals and dedications on application to the local officers.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Near the Depot, Coleman

Services: Sunday school at 11 a.m. Morning worship at 12 noon. Street meeting at 6.30 p.m. in front of the Coleman hotel. Evangelistic service at 7.30 p.m.

Tuesday, 7.30 p.m., Bible study. Friday, 7.30 p.m., Prayer meeting.

Mrs. H. Gibbons and her sister, Mrs. Watson, left for Calgary by bus on Monday, where they will probably spend the winter. The Gibbons home here has been rented by Mr. Irwin, McGavin's products distributor.

VETERANS TO ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE SUNDAY

Remembrance Day service will be held in Central United church, Blairstmore, Sunday at 7.30 p.m. Veterans of the last Great War will be in attendance. A most cordial invitation is extended to all, and especially to any of His Majesty's forces who may be visiting in our midst.

NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF BOYS SERVING WANTED

Will anyone having regimental numbers, names and addresses of the Blairstmore boys now serving with His Majesty's forces in Canada, please hand same to Mrs. J. Pilfold, secretary of Crows' Nest Chapter, I.O.D.E., on or before November 30th.

Christmas parcels must be ready by that date and proper addresses are essential.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Toronto, Oct. 25, 1946.
Dear Mr. Editor:

Now that the Red Cross campaign is over and there is assurance that the objective will be reached, on behalf of the National Publicity Committee, I should like to express our appreciation of the co-operation the Red Cross has received from your personally and from your publication.

The public has responded most generously to our appeal for funds for war emergency work, but a large part of the success of the campaign is due to the manner in which the press of Canada has been behind us in our effort, and in its telling of the story of Red Cross work and the way in which the monies donated to the Society have been and will be spent.

In all sincerity, thank you.

Sincerely,
H. NAPIER MOORE,
Chairman,
National Publicity Committee.

Christmas Cards for Overseas mailing should be ordered immediately, as under present conditions ship sailings are very irregular and mails take considerably longer to reach the Old Country. This year The Enterprise has a much wider range of cards than ever before, and at prices ranging from $1.25 per dozen up, with your name, address and greeting neatly printed thereon. You are sure to find a card that appeals to you in our sample books. Call and see them right now while the assortment is complete.

Sergeant George R. Bone, for twenty years connected with Calgary's city police force, has resigned to accept the post of chief constable at Nelson, B.C.

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICES

Remembrance Day service will be held in the Orpheum theatre on Monday next at 10.45 a.m., under auspices of the Canadian Legion. Members will attend in a body, and the public are invited.

The service will open with the singing of Canada's National Anthem. The memorial prayer will be delivered by Rev. E. B. Arrol, B.A., and the memorial address by Mr. John Shevils of Bellevue.

The theatre has been kindly loaned by Mr. Cole for the service.

Immediately following the service the Veterans and general public will proceed to the cenotaph, where appropriate ceremonies will take place, including the laying of a wreath by members of the I.O.D.E., and the Legion.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

The whist and bridge drive in the L.O.D.E. hall on Friday evening under auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the B.E.S.L., was not as well attended as was hoped for. Money taken in at these drives is used to buy "fags" for the boys overseas.

Prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. W. Mills and Mr. H. Meade, and for whist by Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. Wm. Fisher (Hillcrest) playing as a gent. The mystery box was won by Mrs. B. Eccleston. Following cards, a luncheon was served to bring the evening to a close.

Mrs. I. Hutton and son and daughter, Billy and Agnes, spent a few days in Calgary.

William Cole, senior, has returned to his home in Victoria after spending several months with Mr. and Mrs. W. Cole, junior, here.

Mrs. Gordon Key is confined to her home through illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Letcher (nee Blanche Walsh) have taken up residence in the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. A. Price.

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Catholic hall on Friday night, in honor of Miss Josephine Markosky, bride-elect. The evening was spent at various games. Following the serving of a dainty luncheon, the guest of honor was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts, for which she very ably thanked her many friends.

Recent cartoons of Mussolini depict him as very disgruntled, but he still carries that famous hog jowl.

The many friends of Mr. S. G. Banman will regret to learn that he has been confined to his home for the past week entertaining a guy named "Lumbago."

At the annual reorganization meeting of the Blairstmore First Aid Association, held at the central school on Sunday, the following officers were elected: Idris Evans, president; Gus Erickson, vice-president; Rob. Oakes, secretary; C. M. Larblester, treasurer; Dr. R. F. Stewart, lecturer. Instructors: M. H. Congdon, G. Erickson, A. Rae, A. McKay, L. Walker, J. Lloyd and Bob Erickson. First Aid classes for men's group will commence Sunday next at 11 a.m. at the school.

When you register at a hotel and a bell-hop shows you to your room, about the first thing that catches your eye is a Bible on the table or dresser. You pick it up and learn that it was placed there by the Gideons, an organization composed of commercial travellers. We have never met a Gideon to know him, but we have run across many Gideon Bibles in our time. To date the organization has placed over a million and a half of these books, and their aim and purpose is to place a Bible in every hotel room, by the side of every hospital cot, in every prison cell, and every school desk in the land.—Ex.

WHY REMEMBRANCE DAY?

This question is often asked in these days of strife, with the world at arms, and men, women and children dying by thousands. What is the use and why keep a day that is only a mockery?

But let us look and see what it really means to us who are again engaged in a battle to save our way of life and our ideals of democracy for the future generations.

True, all those millions who died in the last great war seem to have given their all in vain for something that has vanished from this world of ours, because here while our hospitals still shelter many of those who were disabled in the last war, we have the second year of another and greater conflict, against the same enemy. But if we of the older generation had not carried on the fight, would we have anything in the name of Liberty and Freedom left in this world today?

True, we did not make the war safe for Democracy, nor did we end all war. But at least we still have the ideas of the democratic way of living left to fight for and maintain. The feeling among all the peoples of the world at large, that war is a curse that must be banished forever, is growing from year to year. We still have our chosen way of living to compare against the other way that is chosen for millions of other peoples, by their self-appointed rulers, either with or without the will of the majority.

True, we have many things and conditions that are not by any means what we would or could have them be. But at least we still have the right and the opportunity to change those things and conditions when and how we will.

Those men who, in the last war, gave up their lives or health and strength are surely worth remembering, and one day set aside in the year, to take stock and compare what we have and plan what we shall have in the future, is a day well spent.

So let us make Remembrance Day a day to think back what has been done in the past, even when at times it seemed that all was lost to our cause, but by the will to carry on and the determination to win or die in the attempt, the victory was gained from seeming defeat by those warriors of other days. Let us plan now to see that the mistakes made after the fighting was over are not repeated this time, and so bring to those who gave their all, the only reward they ever asked, a better world for the future.

Make Remembrance Day not only a day to remember those who are gone, but a day to resolve that the things for which they lived, fought and died for shall come about.

Let us renew our pledge to them to carry the torch of freedom on to that brighter and better day in the future, which will surely dawn after this strife is over if we keep the faith.

They served till death. Why not we? Carry on.—R. J. Laurie, in the Cranbrook Courier.

THANKS FROM THE BRITISH RED CROSS

Field Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode, chairman of the British Red Cross, has written the Canadian Red Cross expressing gratitude for the gift of 130 ambulances and also for the agreement to supply 10,000 parcels of food from Canada every week for British prisoners of war in Germany. The British Red Cross is the voluntary auxiliary of the British government, and is committed to the task of supplying food and clothing to prisoners of war in enemy territory.

"The ambulances are a highly valued gift, made at a moment when our organization was hard-pressed to know how to obtain a sufficient number of ambulances to prepare to meet the need," Sir Philip wrote. "I am glad to have this opportunity of reiterating the gratitude of the British Red Cross for the generous and ungrudging help given to us at all times by the Canadian Red Cross in so many directions, and particularly for their latest gesture in undertaking the packing, despatch and financial responsibility for 10,000 parcels per week for our prisoners of war.

"I hope you will be able to find means of letting the public in Canada know how immensely this assistance is appreciated in this country and how deeply grateful we are for the unfailing support given us on every occasion."

The ambulances were contributed to the Canadian Red Cross for Britain by individuals, business firms, service clubs and other organizations throughout Canada.

A musical programme will feature the annual meeting of the Blairstmore branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, to be held in the Sartoris hall on the night of Thursday next, November 14th. You are invited to attend.

Prior to the set-in of winter, many local citizens journeyed up York Creek to see the reservoir, recently practically reconstructed. It is acknowledged by all as an excellent job and money well spent that will serve the town for many years. With the new growth of timber in the York valley, it is believed that the water supply is practically unlimited and sufficient to serve the town for a long time.

OPHEUM

THEATRE BLAIRSTMORE

LAST TIME TONIGHT

Friday, Nov. 8

GREER GARSON

LAWRENCE OLIVER

in

"Pride and Prejudice"

Girls take a lesson from these 5 husbands — hunters in the age when men were "T-E-A-S-E-D" into marriage! and if a gal showed her silken ankle—why! she was a HUSSY!!

ALSO NEWS

SAT. - MON. - TUES.

Nov. 9-11-12

BETTE DAVIS

CHARLES BOYER

in

"All This, and Heaven, Too"

When other books and films are forgotten you still cherish all this . . . and the momentous first meeting of the screen's greatest dramatic stars!

WED. - THURS. - FRI.

Nov. 13-14-15

MICKEY ROONEY

as

"Young Tom Edison"

With FAY Bainter and GEORGE Bancroft

A story of triumph . . . of a boy blessed with three gifts—courage, imagination and faith . . . he was the boyish Tom Edison who became the world renowned Wizard of Menlo Park.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Valerie Jean Houbrack, who died November 11th, 1946.

"While you, dear parent, rest and sleep,"

Your loving memory we'll always keep."

—Remembered by the family.

A regular meeting in a hotel lobby on Sunday appeared to be minus about eleven chairmen. The floor had just been polished.

Charles McAfee, a justice of the peace in New Brunswick, was convicted of making subversive statements and fined $50 and costs of $125.70.

BREAD helps keep Canadians fit

FOR PRESENT-DAY EMERGENCIES

LIFE TODAY calls for energy and vitality. And bread supplies one-fourth of the food energy of Canadians!

In fact, bread should be the basic food in the diet of every Canadian whose work calls for quick or sustained energy.

Bread is unusually rich in carbohydrates and, with its modern milk formula, is a source of protein equal to meat in muscle building and repair.

Bread tempts and satisfies your appetite—makes you more fit for present-day emergencies. Eat more of it!

YOUR BAKER'S BULL scientific equipment—and fine ingredients—give you a loaf unsurpassed in wholesomeness and delicious flavor.

MEADE'S BAKING SERVICE

BELLEVUE

Alberta

Our Pay Day Cash Specials

CHOICE BABY BEEF

Loin or Leg	23
Shoulder Roast	15
Boned and Rolled	23
Spring Chicken	25
Fowl	20
Pork Chops	45
Veal Chops	2
Shoulder Veal	15
Pork Leg Roast	20
Pork Shoulder Roast	18
Pork Sausage	35
Beef Round Steak	15
Shoulder Beef	12
Hamburger	3
Syrate Ribs, small	15
Spare Ribs, large	25
Poppy Seed	25
Lard	25
FRESH FISH DIRECT FROM VANCOUVER EVERY THURSDAY	3 Lb. 25
Fresh Lamb - Chicken - Lard - Butter - Eggs	2 Lb. 25
CENTRAL MEAT MARKET	2 Lb. 25
V. KRYSKY, PROP.	P. O. Box 32

Phone 284

284

THE ANNUAL DANCE

OF THE

I.O.D.E.

Will be Held on Monday, Nov. 11th

in the

COLUMBUS HALL

in the

ARCADIANS' ORCHESTRA

Dancing at 9 p.m.

GENTS 75c

LADIES 50c

Gallery 25c

Novelties, Streamers, Etc.

Phone 714

AIRCRAFT SUPPLY SITUATION MORE SATISFACTORY

Ottawa.—Air Minister Power described Canada's aircraft supply situation as somewhat more satisfactory than it was recently.

"We will probably never have all we want," he said, speaking particularly of planes for training in the British Commonwealth air training plan schools.

The minister told a press conference the spare parts situation in the air force was distinctly better than it was and is steadily improving.

Major R. G. Ross, R.A.C., had no knowledge of the United States bomb sight, or whether any steps were being taken to make it available to the empire forces.

Canada had not enough fighter aircraft for air-fight defence of the two coasts, but the squadrons on duty there would be strengthened with additional planes as they became available, subject always to the prior claims of the forces taking part in the Battle of Britain.

Asked about the United States "P.B.V." flying boats, Major Power said Canada would be glad to get some for both coasts, again subject to Britain's prior claim. It was a good ship for coastal defence, but land planes were needed as well.

Major Power said Canada's policy of concentrating on the manufacture of aircraft of United States type did not involve abandonment of the manufacture of British type planes now being made in the Dominion. The Anson advanced trainer, used in Canadian air schools, was a British type plane, the frame of which was produced in Canada.

In embarking on the production of new types, however, the tendency would be to make United States types rather than British types.

Apparently there are not many amateur radio men in Canada as the government thought. Major Power said the response to an appeal for such men to offer their services to the air force was not satisfactory.

The air force wants men who can repair, operate and maintain sending and receiving sets.

"I think it quite reasonable," he said, when asked to comment on President Roosevelt's statement that the Royal Air Force was stronger now than when German air attacks on Great Britain started.

Apparently, he said, the British had not lost a great number of planes and they were getting quite a number of new planes.

Some graduates of the British Commonwealth air training schools had left for overseas, Major Power said, but he declined to elaborate.

(Classes of air observers and air gunners recently completed their training under the plan.)

Canadian Legion Services

Will Not Forget Fallen Comrades On Remembrance Day

Ottawa.—Canada's soldier dead will be honoured by the nation on Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, as a result of a decision by the Secretary of State to proclaim the day a statutory holiday as usual.

An appeal to all citizens to participate in the ceremonies that will be held throughout the country, is made by Alex Walker, of Calgary, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, who announces that provincial commands and branches of the Legion have been instructed to make plans suitable to local conditions.

In spite of modified arrangements, necessitated because of the war, it is expected that thousands of citizens everywhere, and ex-service men including local detachments of the Veterans' Guard of Canada, will take part in the ceremonies.

Becomes Regular Member

Earl of Athlone Joins Ottawa Branch Of Canadian Legion

Ottawa.—Being grand president of the Canadian Legion wasn't enough for the Earl of Athlone, a veteran of two wars, so he has become a regular member.

Recently, the governor-general signed an application form with Ottawa branch of the Legion, according to an announcement from Canadian Legion war services headquarters.

On the application form the governor-general wrote details of his military career, including his service in the South African and first Great War.

Protest Coal Imports

White Miners In Alberta Are Without Work

Blairmore, Alta.—A petition has been sent to Blairmore local No. 15 of the United Mine Workers of America to Ottawa, asking the minister of labor to investigate a situation in the coal fields of western Canada where it is claimed some miners are working only two days a week while importation of foreign coal has increased.

A suggestion is made in the petition to take steps to curtail importation of foreign coal until the mines in the western coal fields are producing to capacity.

The local branch claims that importation of coal from the United States has increased by hundreds of thousands of tons over a corresponding period in 1939 and that the coal mines in Blairmore and Bellevue are working on short time while other mines in the district work twice as much.

Plant Under Construction

Aerial Bombs Will Soon Be Produced In Canadian Factory

Ottawa.—Production of 500-pound aerial bombs will be started next February in a huge plant now being completed "somewhere in Quebec," Munitions Minister Howe announced.

"Normal output of the plant will be well over 100,000 bombs a year," Mr. Howe said.

"This will be the first time that aerial bombs of any kind, other than a comparatively few practice bombs have been made in a Canadian factory."

The long-range program of the munitions department will eventually embrace all sizes and types of bombs for which there is a demand. They will range in weight from 40 to 1,000 pounds and from the common high explosive bombs to aerial projectiles capable of piercing heavy armor plate.

Chicago Livestock Show

Western Stockmen Have Filed Many Entries

Chicago.—Prominent Canadian stockmen from three provinces—Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario—are among scores of livestock breeders and feeders from all parts of the continent who have filed entries for the 1940 International Livestock Exposition to be held at the Chicago Stockyards Nov. 30 to Dec. 7.

A Saskatchewan Clydesdale breeder, William Fleming of Drinkwater, will exhibit in both the pure bred and gelding classes of that breed. He will show geldings in pairs and four-horse teams. Other notable Clyde exhibitors from Saskatchewan include R. and E. C. Williams and Rhys Williams, all of Melville.

The International Grain and Hay Show, in which Canadian exhibits will run consistently, the entries will close Nov. 10.

Famous Canadian Artist

Arthur Heming, Artist And Writer, Dies At Home In Hamilton

Hamilton, Ont.—Arthur Heming, one of the best-known of Canada's artists who also was an illustrator and an author, died at the home of a sister, Mrs. Robert B. Acres, of Wethersfield. He was 70.

Heming gained his greatest fame as an artist for portraying wild life and the early Canadian voyageurs. He was 60 before he began to paint with colors and his announcement last January that he was putting aside his brush shocked the Canadian art world.

Heming was an illustrator in the early part of his career.

Heming is survived by three sisters including Mrs. E. A. Harris, formerly of Victoria, B.C., who now lives here, and two brothers.

Demonstrations In Norway

London.—The Norwegian Telegraph agency reported that it had received information that there have been "violent demonstrations against the new order in Norway, especially at Bergen." The agency said there have also been demonstrations at Trondheim.

Build Cargo Ships

Toronto.—G. Kingsley Shells, deputy minister of munitions and supply, said in an address before an Optimist club that planes are under way whereby men from the United Kingdom "will be brought to Canada for building cargo ships."

Sunk By Enemy Mines

London.—The admiralty announced the naval trawlers Wave Flower and Joseph Buxton have been sunk by enemy mines.

VICHY LEADER REFERS TO DEAL MADE WITH AXIS

Vichy, France.—Henri Philippe Petain, marshal of France, told his defeated people that the Vichy government kept "at least our sovereignty" in the deal with Hitler, and hinted that his negotiations with the axis would spur new steps to unite the nation and stamp out the "Free French" movement in the colonies.

French sovereignty, he said, in a surprise broadcast, "defends the freedom of our soil, the stamping out of differences of opinion and the reduction of dissidence in the colonies."

Petain said Hitler "put no pressure on me and served no dictat," that the decision to collaborate with the axis was his alone, and that he did not like the heavy burden which the French are bearing.

"It is I alone whom history will judge," he said in a broadcast.

The 84-year-old chief of state was stern in his insistence that the "collaboration" he has agreed upon with the axis is sincere on the part of France.

"Up to now I have used the language of a father," he warned. "Today I use the language of a chief."

Petain limited his definition of the principle France will pay under his agreement with the German dictator to "the principle of collaboration."

"Means," he said, "will be discussed later."

This added nothing to the official announcement which followed the Petain-Hitler conference.

"In the near future the weight of suffering laid on our country can be lightened."

"The plight of our prisoners (there are now 2,000,000 French prisoners of war) can be bettered."

"Occupational expenses (France now must pay Germany more than $8,000,000 a day for German occupation) can be lightened."

"The line of demarcation (between occupied and unoccupied France) can be rendered less rigid."

"Administration and feeding of the territory can be facilitated."

The marshal said he accepted Hitler's invitation to confer on his own free will and that "this policy is mine; my ministers are responsible only to me."

This appeared to be an oblique reference, to Vice-Premier Pierre Laval, who initiated the negotiations with the Germans.

"It was with honor and to maintain the unity of France—the unity of 10 centuries—in the framework of the constructive activity of the new European order that I entered into the path of collaboration," he said.

The aristocrat under whom France survives, Petain said, is not a final end soon."

When he left Berlin, he added, people were spending nights in what anti-aircraft shelters were available.

During the day they were tired and could not work well. A lot have lost their homes in the bombing.

COLONEL H. S. G. LETSON, M.C.

Who has been appointed Military Attaché to the Canadian Legation in Washington. Before his appointment to the new post Col. Letson was Commandant of the Vancouver area.

Berlin Air Raids

Say People Of Germany Are Now Sick Of War

Vancouver.—A story of British air raids on Berlin that have made the people of the German capital "sick of war" was told here by a young German-Jewish refugee who arrived aboard the Japanese liner Heian Maru.

He was one of 214 passengers, many of them refugees from Nazi Germany en route to relatives in the United States.

The young refugee told of the announcement of Berliners at the first British bombing raid on the city after Nazi Air Marshal Goering had reached Berlin.

"The bombers (British) first came over once or twice a week, doing much damage," he related. "The people of Berlin are sick of war. They do not care who wins so long as the war will end soon."

When he left Berlin, he added, people were spending nights in what anti-aircraft shelters were available. During the day they were tired and could not work well. A lot have lost their homes in the bombing.

Must Carry Original

Copy Of National Registration Certificate Not Recognized By Law

Ottawa.—Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, associate deputy minister of the air ministry of War Services, told Canadians it is useless to have photostatic copies of their national registration certificate.

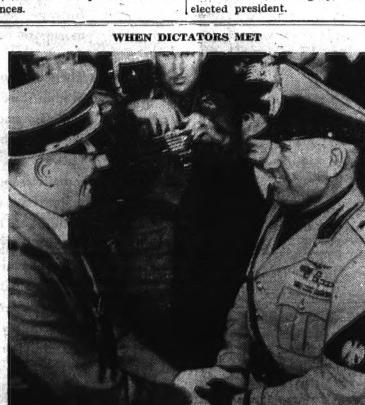

Mr. Justice Davis said he has received information that, at several points in the country persons are having such copies made.

"There is nothing in our regulations to prevent that," he said, "but the law requires every person to carry the original certificate. Possession of photostatic copies will not satisfy the law. Any such copy, therefore, is just as much surplus material as far as the law is concerned."

Cancer Control

Toronto.—The Canadian Society for the Control of Cancer announced that the Earl of Athlone, governor general of Canada, had accepted the office of honorary president. Dr. J. S. MacEachern, Calgary, was re-elected president.

WHEN DICTATORS MET

This picture of Hitler and Mussolini, which was down across the Atlantic by Clipper ship, shows the two leading exponents of terrorism as they met at Bremer Fass, where they are believed to have formulated their plans for demands upon the French Vichy government and Franco of Spain.

Aviators Freed

Canadians And Eighteen Others Interned In Greece Win Release

London.—Italy's invasion of Greece meant freedom for Acting F/Lt. William Weir Campbell, Canadian-born pilot known to his fellow fliers as "Dead-eye Dick" because of the accuracy with which he destroyed two Italian submarines within 48 hours in the Mediterranean last summer.

Campbell, 28, born in Revelstoke, B.C., had been interned in Greece after making a forced landing. He was released with 18 other members of the Royal Air Force to resume their air warfare against the Italians.

Just six weeks ago he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry and devotion to duty in execution of air operations.

He had been held at Athens since the end of August under the neutrality laws.

Polish Troops

Prime Minister Churchill Sends Message To Commander-in-Chief

London.—The Polish Telegraphic agency announced that Prime Minister Churchill sent a message to Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, commander-in-chief of the Polish army, in connection with his visit to Poland troops in Scotland.

"Through their country he was trampled under by the oppressor, the Polish people, who have struggled so long and so honorably for their natural existence and independence, will in the end achieve their heart's desire," the message said.

DONATIONS TO OUR WAR EFFORT REACH LARGE SUM

Ottawa.—Approximately 1,000 residents of Canada and the United States have contributed $903,000 toward the war effort by voluntary donations to the finance department, The Canadian Press learned.

This amount does not include voluntary contributions, amounting to $2,000,000, made to the air ministry for research, nor amounts contributed toward charities through the travel bureau, by individuals in the United States.

Up to date the sum subscribed to the nation's non-interest-bearing loan is $18,014,000, made to the Simling at Aug. 15 and $15 million at $10,000,000, is $2,610,382.

Voluntary contributions, starting briskly as the war opened, fell off considerably after the evacuation of Dunkirk. But when Hitler's nameless blitzkrieg against Britain started, loans bounced up again and gained enormously, it was said.

Official records show that many contributions came from foreign language persons and groups. For example, Japanese organizations on the Pacific coast sent several donations. A Czech who came to Canada 39 years ago sent in his bit.

"Loyal Italians" in western Canada forwarded a sum, a Hungarian in California contributed $25, an Anglo-Hellenic Educational Progressive Association sent some money.

Others who contributed largely out of small means were more than 200 pensioners of the first Great War who allocated certain parts of their income to help the war effort.

A woman in Timmins, Ont., operating on a limited family budget, sends every month whatever small sum she can, officials said. It varies with seasonal prices of food and fuel needs.

Most of the amounts received are for sums ranging from $1 to $5. A class in the Balmoral school in Calgary sent $5 ordinarily spent on a class treat.

An anonymous contributor, apparently of some wealth, pledged $2,000 a year for duration of the war.

Money comes in ear-marked for everything from 250 soldiers' uniforms to a Bren gun, and it comes from everything from selling lemonade in Toronto to the returns on beaver skins in the north country.

Contributions to Air Minister Power's research fund have included $250,000 each from the T. Eaton Co. of Toronto, and Samuel Bronfman and his three brothers of Montreal.

Other substantial contributors were the International Nickel Company of Canada, Canadian Pacific Railway and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co.

Meantime, Canada has floated two war loans, the first for $250,000,000 and the second for $300,000,000. Both were oversubscribed.

SHIPMENTS OF BACON CONTINUE AT RECORD LEVELS

Ottawa.—The bacon agreement with the United Kingdom ran out Thursday, Oct. 31, but the farmer had little reason to notice it. Hog markings are continuing at the all-time record levels of recent weeks, in the expectation that a satisfactory new agreement will be reached before Agriculture Minister James C. Gardner leaves the United Kingdom.

As far as the hog producer is concerned, the old bacon agreement became ineffective at least three weeks ago, since it takes that long for a hog to go from farm to seaboard in the form of bacon.

Nevertheless, on the government's instructions, the bacon board is continuing to take deliveries at the peak rate of the last few weeks, which is around 7,840,000 pounds a week, the price to be set later. The minimum weekly rate under the old agreement was 5,600,000 pounds, increased as the British government saw fit.

It is expected here the bacon needs of the United Kingdom in the next year will continue at about the present level. However, whether the price to be set in the new agreement will be as high as it was in the year closing is another question.

If the minimum weekly delivery for the next year is to be substantially higher than last year, some argument may be advanced for a slight reduction in price.

The Dominion government's program is to dispose of a commodity which has developed a definite surplus. Production is roughly 40 per cent above that of a year ago, with the prospect that the average for the year will be at least 25 or 30 per cent. above last year.

Factors which will tend to maintain the present price level, highest in the world and about 40 per cent. above that in the United States, are a possible increase in domestic consumption with wartime prosperity among the wage-earning group and continued large-scale purchases by the defence services.

The average top bacon price under the United Kingdom agreement which ran out Thursday, Oct. 31, was $18.01 a hundredweight (112 pounds), compared to about $16.70 when the agreement came into effect last November.

Despite a 40 per cent. increase in marketings in the following months, that same price was maintained without variation, probably for the first time in the history of the industry.

Freighter St. Malo Sunk

Former French Vessel Was Sailing Under Canadian Flag

Ottawa.—The former French freighter St. Malo had been sunk by enemy action while flying the Canadian flag and 28 of her crew, most of them Canadians, are missing. The transport department made known.

The vessel, which sailed 5,770 tons, was en route to the United Kingdom at the time she was lost.

Next of kin missing have been notified, it was said, and 16 survivors were landed in the United Kingdom.

The vessel was carrying a general cargo and information here was only that she had been lost "this month" as a result of enemy action.

The former French boat was taken over by Canada last August. She was in a Canadian port when France capitulated to Germany and was requisitioned by the Canadian government.

Secret Bomb Sight

Unconfirmed Rumor That It Has Been Sent To Ottawa

Washington.—Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, told a press conference here that he knew "less and less" about the movements of the famed United States secret bomb sight.

He was questioned about suggestions reported by the New York Herald Tribune that the bomb sight had been sent to Ottawa in a shipment by air from the Sperry Gyroscope Company, manufacturers of the device.

"I have been hearing many reports of it going here or there, but personally know less and less of its movements," Hull said.

Russian Princess Dies

London.—Death of Princess Elizabeth, 53, niece by marriage of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, at Wilderness House, Hampton Court palace, was announced.

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE

Office of Publication
BLAIRMORE, ALBERTA

Subscription, to all parts of the Dominion, $2.00 per annum; United States and Great Britain, $2.50; Foreign, $3.00, payable in advance.

Business-locals, 15¢ per line.

Legal notices, 15¢ per line for first insertion; 12¢ per line for each subsequent insertion.

Priority advertising rates on application.

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairstown, Alta., Fri., Nov. 8, 1946

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE;
EMPLOYMENT COMPULSION.

In normal times the setting up of a national scheme of unemployment insurance in Canada would have been regarded as an epochal event. Such indeed it was in 1935. This year, however, the institution of unemployment insurance, while not escaping public attention by any means, is regarded as somewhat of a routine matter, and there is no indication that it has caused any elation among those whom it is intended to benefit. The matter-of-fact reception of the new unemployment insurance scheme may be due partly to a general familiarity with its aims and objects, and partly to the circumstance that this is the second time of its enactment; but mainly it is due beyond doubt to the fact that we are at war. For the last reason, although Canada has lagged very far behind the rest of the industrial countries in this sphere of social reform, many people view its introduction as ill-timed.

Nevertheless it must be put to the government's credit that the scheme for which it secured the approval of parliament in the current session is as good as could well have been devised for an initial effort, and generous in its beneficial features. The government has also made a commendable choice in the appointment as chairman of the commission which will administer the scheme of Dr. Joseph Sirois, whose name is known in connection with the royal commission on Dominion-Provincial relations. The judicial capacity shown by him and his fellow commissioners in their recent report on Canada's constitutional position, and the intensive study of national problems which that report reflects, should stand Dr. Sirois in good stead in his new post.

—Canada Labor Review.

GUTENBERG'S REFLECTION

One of the most interesting articles we have read recently is from the English Printing Review. The setting is Heaven, with Gutenberg at work on his private press. When interviewed by an English reporter there are many things which he has to say. The article in part follows: ". . . the right to print what you like is one of the most important things you are fighting to preserve. Hitler doesn't care so much what the people say or think. It's when he is printed and published that it becomes dangerous. Like other stupid tyrants, he has burned books and strangled newspapers, and thus called attention to a thing he will never conquer, the printed word. It will beat him in the end. By the printed word speaks Reason; the arguments you can re-read, check, and think over. You can't turn the radio backwards and see what he said in the previous paragraph—you don't want to; you are carried away in a mood of mass emotion. But oratory has not the staying power of the printed word."

Teacher: "What kind of fish did the Lord divide among his disciples?"

Tommy: "Please, teacher, it must have been holly mackerel."

Lady: "Doesn't that little boy swear terribly?"

Another Little Boy: "Yes'm, he sure do. He don't put no expression in it at all."

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(T. B. Windress)

Edmonton, Nov. 4.—In a scheme to give the Social Credit government of Alberta facilities for radio propaganda controlled by Premier Aberhart and his cabinet, a plan is afoot to spend $25,000 to $30,000 in enlarging and improving CKUA, the University of Alberta broadcasting station, to 1,000 watts and making it a commercial station to be operated in competition with existing stations in the north and south of the province.

It is stated by experienced radio technicians and operators here that even this increase of watts from 100 to 1,000 will not give the station provincial-wide coverage, as no existing station, however powerful in Alberta, is able to give province-wide coverage. Critics of the scheme state that the money would be better spent in providing studio facilities for educational broadcasts fed to the listening public through existing commercial stations.

It is well known that Premier Aberhart has been finding considerable difficulty in securing time on existing stations for his political and Bible Conference broadcasts, and it is reported to be this that has decided the government to utilize the University station as a government-controlled radio for propaganda and political broadcasting.

Reliable informed sources in University circles state that it is well known the question of transformation of CKUA into a commercial station has been a matter of controversy between the government and the board of governors of the university for some time.

And it is more than hinted that the recent dropping of Mr. Justice Lunney, and Chief Justice Harvey from the board of governors by Premier Aberhart was connected with this controversy. There is no confirmation of the report, but it is being said in circles usually well-informed that Chief Justice Harvey was strongly opposed to the proposal.

Comment in the capital is bitter over the feature that should the government succeed in getting a commercial license for CKUA when it is rebuilt, with a new station outside the city limits and other up-to-date features, the Social Credit party will be able to spread its propaganda at the expense of the people generally with public funds supplied by the government.

It is certain the plans of Premier Aberhart are not simply to improve the radio station for educational purposes. If that was the sole object of the move, there would be no need to turn the station into a commercial proposition.

What attitude the C.B.C. governors will take toward the proposition of the Alberta government is not yet known. The Alberta reconstituted board of governors of the University met October 31st, and the matter was dealt with then as far as Alberta is concerned. But nothing is yet known regarding the Ottawa attitude toward granting CKUA a commercial license.

The University newspaper, "The Gateway," in a news story on the matter, says: "It is believed that the question of the expansion and commercialization of the university radio station was decided at the first meeting of the new board of governors. The matter has been one of marked controversy and difference of opinion, and may have had no little bearing on the recent action of the Aberhart administration."

It is stated by radio men here that although Premier Aberhart has been finding difficulty in securing time on the commercial radio stations for his broadcasts lately, owing to the increased demand for it from industrial and commercial concerns and national news broadcasts, there can be little doubt that an appeal to the C.B.C. authorities would result in their providing some time for government business from the administration.

The whole matter will depend on whether the Ottawa radio authorities will consider a third commercial station necessary in Edmonton. The objective is 15,000.

THEY KEEP THE LAMP BURNING

(T. B. Windress)

It is a real pleasure for me editor of a daily newspaper to welcome the weekly editor to Vancouver. The editor of the big city daily lives in a narrow world, bounded by his desk, his office and the few people who knock at his door.

Not so the weekly editor. He is something more than just a writing man. Like the old family physician, he is father confessor to his community; he knows his town, its strength and its weakness, and he is a real leader among his own people. He truly represents the solid public opinion that matters—that of the people who live in the hinterland and produce the real wealth of this nation—Vancouver News-Herald.

JOINT CONTROL OF ROAD TRANSPORTATION

Regulation of road transport service and rates under uniform legislation administered jointly by provincial and federal authority in the national interest was suggested by Bernard Allen, economist of the research and development department, Canadian National Railways, during the course of a recent address delivered to the Commercial Club at Halifax, Nova Scotia. Mr. Allen discussed "The Conflict of Railway and Highway Transport in Canada," and stressed the vital interest of the "man in the street" in obtaining proper coordination of these two types of land transport.

Mr. Allen began by insisting that the conflict between railway and highway transportation is not a "dogfight" for traffic, but an important economic problem of immediate concern to all citizens. Each type of transport has a definite field of activity, he said, and failure to function in their proper field of endeavor will perpetuate an ever increasing and unnecessary economic loss.

The importance of railways in time of national emergency was clearly proven during the first year of the war, when they moved freight and passengers in such volume as could not have been handled by highway transport. The work now being done by the railways was possible because of their peace-time preparation, such as betterments in roadbed, improvements in power and equipment, and increasing speed of freight trains which now carry heavier loads with less coal consumption.

When the time arrives for giving his daughter away, dad is sure happy.

Twenty years ago eggs were selling in the Kootenays at 85 cents a dozen, and creamy butter at 75 cents a pound.

Despite the inclemency of the weather, the tea and sale of home cooking at the United church auditorium on Wednesday was fairly well attended.

Abie's talks over the radio have never cost him much. He has been successful so far to find a few successors to meet his talking bill. But in future we may all be paying our share towards his determination to monopolize the air.

In appreciation of hospitable treatment he had received from Canadians while visiting here last year, Mr. M. Malley, of Tacoma, Washington, forwarded a cheque for $100 to the secretary of the Alberta Motor Association, the money to be used for Canada's war relief. He was particularly pleased at seeing the first "hunters welcome" sign in his life in a small town south of Calgary.

All Kimberley employees, sports and community organizations have united their efforts for a "Smash Hitler" fund, into which every employed person in Kimberley and Chapman Camp, whose combined population is nearly 4,000, will be asked to give a day's wages. The fund will be turned over to Prime Minister Churchill to be applied to the relief of human suffering in Great Britain. The objective is 15,000.

Rastus: "Teacher, may I leave the room?"

Teacher: "No, Rastus, you stay here like a good boy and tell the ink wells."

It's easy enough to be merry.

When there isn't a jolt or a jar;

But the man worth while is the man who can smile.

When his wife is driving the car,

About eight inches of snowfall last night ensures skiing for a while. It is expected large numbers will be engaged in the sport on Sunday.

Farmer: "Do you guarantee these clover seeds to grow?"

Local Clerk: "Absolutely. If these seeds don't grow, just bring 'em back and we'll refund your money any day."

Like having your own four-million-
gallon wine cellar!
Bright's
CONCORD
and CATAWBA

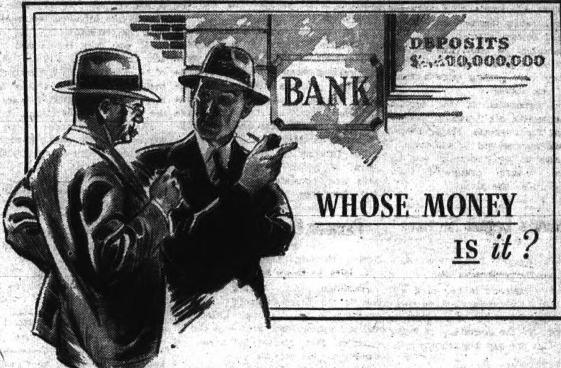

in gallon jars
and in 26 ounce
and 40 ounce
bottles
FULL STRENGTH AS ALWAYS

To please your taste in wines—that's the purpose of Bright's giant wine cellars. These tremendous stocks insure full and proper aging before a drop of these mellow wines is sold for your enjoyment! Try Bright's today!

THERE IS NO
SUBSTITUTE FOR AGE

This advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

WHOSE MONEY
IS it?

WHAT money? Why—the money in the banks! The money carefully put away by you and your neighbours in savings accounts. The money you could have spent today but wanted to keep safely against some future need. The businessman's money for use in his normal operations. There are more than 4,846,000 bank deposit accounts, savings and current. Within these two classes the great majority of deposits are small or of moderate amount. But you'd be wrong if you assumed from this, that the rest of the deposits are owned by the few! Quite the contrary! The railways, for instance, have deposits in the chartered banks—and that indirectly includes the whole population of the Dominion. The trade unions have deposits. Millions of policy-holders share in the ownership of insurance companies' deposits. And don't overlook the deposits of wheat pools; farm co-operatives; churches; municipalities and municipal hydro commissions; school districts; school children's penny bank savings deposited with the chartered banks; and commercial and mining corporations with very wide lists of shareholders, large and small, all over Canada. Truly, money on deposit in Canada's chartered banks is owned, in fact, by you and your fellow-Canadians.

[In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain uninterrupted, their useful services—safeguarding depositors' funds; facilitating the nation's business—looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis of enduring prosperity.]

THE CHARTERED BANKS OF CANADA

LOCAL AND GENERAL ITEMS

M. E. Mosevitch, Lethbridge barrister, was in town last week end.

Jack MacPhail is reported recovering from a macaroni invasion.

Constable Wilson, R.C.M.P., was up from Lethbridge over the week end.

Charles Clark, senior, of the High River Times, recently underwent an operation, from which he is recovering.

Ford Motor Company's plant at Dearborn, Michigan, has been awarded airplane manufacturing contracts totaling $122,325,000.

In almost any community in Alberta today persons can be found who have not yet been appointed commissioners for affidavits, oaths, etc.

A dance is to be held in the Lundbreck hall on Friday night next to raise funds for the school Christmas treat. The Arcadians will supply the music. Surplus funds go to the Red Cross.

The annual meeting of the Blairmore Curling Club will be held at the Greenhill hotel at 8 o'clock on the evening of Friday next, November 15th. All interested are asked to be present.

Can anything be siller than the theft of an expensive fur or fur coat? Who could wear them and be happy in them? But considerable of such thieving has been carried on in Calgary lately.

Rev. Canon W. E. Jackson, of Winnipeg, succeeds Ven. Archdeacon Swanson as rector of St. Stephen's Anglican church at Calgary. The induction ceremony took place on Friday evening last.

The Nazis are reported to have looted Paris of its art treasures and carried them to Berlin. Possibly the idea it to improve Nazi culture, which seems to be in great need of improvement—Calgary Herald.

In some places in Alberta, supposedly clever after-midnight Hallowe'en pranksters were met by cleverly arranged water sprays on the end of a hose. It had the desired effect that might be noticed next Hallowe'en.

Ed. Bernard, who resigned from the R.C.M.P. to take over the secretary-treasurer of the town and school district of Coleman, suddenly changed his mind last week and decided to enlist for war service instead.

Major R. F. Barnes, for some time commandant at the Kananaskis internment camp, was home to Coleman on leave last week end, and on Sunday left to take up new duties at the N.P.A.M. training camp at Camrose.

While the Earl of Athlone is grand president of the Canadian Legion, this veteran of the South Africa and Great wars felt that this was not enough, so he has taken out a regular membership in the Canadian Legion at Ottawa.

K. J. Morrison, E. J. Chambers, K. C., and Angus J. Morrison, M.L.A., have been appointed a board of arbitration to consider a dispute over wages and working conditions prevailing in relation to employees and their employers, the Alberta Wood Preserving Co. Ltd.

The first white woman to settle in southern Alberta, Mrs. John McDougall, widow of a pioneer western missionary, has been seriously ill in Calgary General Hospital after suffering a fractured hip in a fall at the home of her son, Major D. G. McDougall, now serving overseas. Mrs. McDougall is in her 87th year. She is reported improving following an operation.

We cannot vouch for the entire accuracy of this report. A Connecticut farmer protected his early potatoes against cold by laying electric wires along the rows to keep the ground warm at night. Several hundred crows roosted in the warm patch. The heat from the wires baked the potatoes, and the crows dug them up and ate them for breakfast.

AIRMEN FROM DOWN UNDER SEND GREETINGS HOME

When the first flight of the Royal Australian Air Force recently arrived at a western Canadian port, the C.B.C. had microphones aboard ship to cover their arrival. In this picture C.B.C. Observer Jack Peach is interviewing a group of boys known as "The Maceteers" getting greetings for friends and relatives at home. Later they broadcast a sing-song featuring popular Australian tunes. This group of embryo airmen is the first to arrive from Australia for further training under the Empire Air Training Scheme.

Greece is now planning how best to disect that Italian leg.

The late Hon. D. B. Mullen was born in Peterboro, Ontario, in 1878.

The Salvation Army recently held a prayer meeting in a Rhodesian beer hall.

When one has to beg for a college degree he is not deserving of it. Page Aberhart!

Mrs. Virgil Passmore underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Cranbrook hospital on October 25th, and is reported doing nicely.

Alberta suffers from one more complaint than other provinces—the curse. Only in Europe do you hear of the like, and its between the dictators.

Mrs. Catherine Cody, widow of the late George Cody, passed away at Fernie on the night of Sunday, October 26th, aged 77. Her husband pre-deceased her about six years ago.

Dr. G. Frederick McNally, Alberta's deputy minister of education, is conducting a series of lectures throughout Quebec province in connection with education week, which begins November 10th.

Roosevelt was re-elected president of the United States on Tuesday with a majority of around four and a half million over his opponent, Willkie. Aberhart would say "That's the voice of the people, alright."

We never had any idea that a postmaster should be an orator, but two inspectors were in Fernie last week examining the oral qualifications for the position there. Should be like Alberta, no qualifications whatever necessary for the positions of attorney-general, etc. Just be a dictator and take the job.

In the agony column of the Vulcan Advocate is a yearning cry from the military: "Wanted—Part-time girl friend, Monday and Wednesday nights in Vulcan from 10 p.m. till 7, for duration of military training. Age 18 to 35. State references, send photo. Address . . . Champion." That should catch a nibble.

Verti Puro, aged 48, Finnish employee of the West Canadian Collieries, dropped dead of a heart attack at Bellevue on Wednesday evening. He had been resident of Bellevue for about fifteen years, and is survived by two sisters, one in Bellevue, the other in Poland. The remains will be laid to rest at Bellevue today.

"For Gosh Sakes!" remarked the editor of the Creston Review when it was made known that he had won a 50-lb pumpkin at the Anglican Business Girls' draw. A disclosure showed that the editor had won four times in his life: first a ticket to a fashion show, second a turkey, third a wife and now that pumpkin. Congratulations are in order, but don't pray for any further offspring—of luck.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Miss Ada Elton, of Calgary, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elton and family this week.

Mrs. Anderson and her three children, of Calgary, spent several days visiting relatives and friends in the Cowley district recently.

Several flocks of wild geese were seen winging their way south this week.

Some farmers in outlying sections still have a bit of threshing to do, and are further hindered by stormy weather. A blizzard of snow is sweeping over this section, today (Thursday).

M. A. Murphy and Harry Gunn were among those who attended the Masonic wild-game banquet at High River on Tuesday evening.

Miss Nellie McWilliam and Mrs. Doris Sandeman are attending the teachers' convention in Lethbridge this week end.

A well attended dance in aid of the Red Cross was held here on Friday night last. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. After expenses were met, some forty odd dollars was added to the fund.

They had been invited to dinner at the house of a prominent local resident. As there was no one to look after little Tommy, it was necessary to take him, too. The meal started off well enough, but while Tommy was trying to cut the meat on his plate it slipped off onto the floor, and his mother's face flushed. "Tommy," she whispered tensely, "you must apologize to Mrs. —— at once. Get up and say something quickly."

The child slowly picked up the meat from the floor and said: "I'm sorry, ma'am. It's funny, but tough meat always does do that."

The cook says the liquid in which pork and cabbage is cooked is liquor.

In view of letters and articles appearing in newspapers and recently complaining of failure of individual shipments of cigarettes to reach members of the C.A.S.F. in England, the management committee of the Buckle Fund advise that special arrangements for shipments which they have been able to make through Canadian Legion War Services, Inc., permit of ten tons per month of the 100 tons space allotted to the C.L.W.S., which ensures that shipments made for the Fund will receive priority, and will be sent forward with a minimum of delay. Once they land in England, or wherever else they may be sent, the shipments will go direct to Canadian Legion War Services officers for distribution to the men. The following exceptional prices have been secured from manufacturers of supplies: cigarettes per 1,000, $2.15; chocolate bar per dozen, 65 cents; chewing gum per 20 five-cent packages, 59 cents, plus a donation of ten per cent extra in goods.

This offer is good for new or renewal orders. It will pay you to look them over and send us the coupon today.

Dr. V. V. Christie was up from Cardston last week end.

It is said that a wife with good horse sense never becomes a nag.

Cold weather is considerably slowing down building operations at Blairmore's new four-room school building.

Tacoma Narrows bridge collapsed yesterday. It was the third largest suspension bridge in the world and cost $6,000,000. It was completed last July.

Candidate: "I want to assure you, fellow citizens, that I have constantly labored in your behalf to the best of my ability."

Heckler: "We know it. That's why we want an able man."

Mrs. Modern (calling to husband upstairs): "Will you bring down my hat, dear?"

Husband: "Well, I don't know the difference between your hat and your handbag. Which is which?"

Mrs. Modern: "The one without any money in it is my hat, darling."

Poppies are being sold this week end.

C. W. May is now busy assessing properties at Olds.

Wear a poppy! Your purchase of a poppy or wreath helps the brave men who sacrificed health and position in the Great War.

This story is going the rounds: The British navy drinks rum, the American navy drinks rye, while the Italian navy sticks to port.

Mose Lightfoot, one of the best hod carriers on the job at the new school, lost his footing and fell to the basement, three storeys below. He hit on his head, struck the cement floor solidly, but went no further. When the foreman went to the basement, expecting to find Mose cold and stiff, he met Mose coming up the steps. "Great Scott, man, aren't you killed?" he cried.

"No," Mose replied, dusting off his clothes, "I guess dat concrete floor musta broke mah fall."

A THRIFTY WHISKY

Robbie Burns
famed old whisky
KIA

This advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board, or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

Carry your registration certificate.

SUBSCRIBE NOW TO YOUR FAVOURITE MAGAZINES AND THIS NEWSPAPER AT A BARGAIN PRICE

THE THRIFTY ECONOMICAL WAY TO SUBSCRIBE TO THIS NEWSPAPER AND YOUR FAVOURITE MAGAZINES AT SENSATIONALLY LOW PRICES

These offers are good for new or renewal orders. It will pay you to look them over and send us the coupon today.

ALL-FAMILY OFFER

This Newspaper, 1 Year, and Your Choice Any Three of These Publications CHECK THREE MAGAZINES WITH ORDER

- [] Maclean's Magazine, 1 yr.
- [] Chatelaine, 1 yr.
- [] National Home Monthly, 1 yr.
- [] Canadian Horticulture and Home, 1 yr.
- [] Family Herald & Weekly Star, 1 yr.
- [] Free Press Prairie Farmer, 1 yr.

- [] Canada Poultryman, 1 yr.
- [] American Fruit Grower, 1 yr.
- [] Country Guide & Nor'West Farmer, 2 yrs.
- [] Silver Fox & Fur, 1 yr.
- [] Western Producer, 1 yr.
- [] Canada Poultry Review, 1 yr.
- [] Rod and Gun, 1 yr.
- [] American Girl, 8 mos.

ALL FOUR ONLY

3.00

SUPER-VALUE OFFER

This Newspaper, 1 Year, and Your Choice of ONE Magazine in Group A and TWO Magazines in Group B MARK AN "X" BEFORE THE MAGAZINES YOU DESIRE GROUP "A"

- [] Maclean's Magazine, 1 yr.
- [] Chatelaine, 1 yr.
- [] National Home Monthly, 1 yr.
- [] Canadian Horticulture and Home, 1 yr.
- [] Family Herald & Weekly Star, 1 yr.
- [] Free Press Prairie Farmer, 1 yr.
- [] Canada Poultryman, 1 yr.
- [] Rod and Gun, 1 yr.
- [] American Girl, 1 yr.
- [] Silver Screen, 1 yr.
- [] Canadian Silver Fox & Fur, 1 yr.
- [] Western Producer, 1 yr.
- [] Canada Poultry Review, 1 yr.

GROUP "B"

- [] Maclean's Magazine, 1 yr.
- [] Chatelaine, 1 yr.
- [] National Home Monthly, 1 yr.
- [] Canadian Horticulture and Home, 1 yr.
- [] Family Herald & Weekly Star, 1 yr.
- [] Free Press Prairie Farmer, 1 yr.
- [] Canada Poultryman, 1 yr.
- [] Rod and Gun, 1 yr.
- [] American Girl, 1 yr.
- [] Silver Screen, 1 yr.
- [] Canadian Silver Fox & Fur, 1 yr.
- [] Western Producer, 1 yr.
- [] Canada Poultry Review, 1 yr.

ALL FOUR ONLY

3.50

This Newspaper and Your Choice ONE Other Publication at Price Listed.

[] Maclean's Magazine, 1 yr.	$2.50
[] Chatelaine, 1 yr.	2.50
[] National Home Monthly, 1 yr.	2.50
[] Family Herald & Weekly Star, 1 yr.	2.50
[] Free Press Prairie Farmer, 1 yr.	2.50
[] Canada Poultryman, 1 yr.	2.50
[] Rod and Gun, 1 yr.	2.50
[] American Girl, 1 yr.	2.50
[] Silver Screen, 1 yr.	2.75
[] Red Book, 1 yr.	3.75
[] Parents' Magazine, 6 mos.	3.25
[] Open Road for Boys, 1 yr.	3.25
[] Home Arts (McGraw-Hill), 1 yr.	3.25
[] Screenland, 1 yr.	3.25
[] Christian Herald, 1 yr.	3.25

FILL OUT COUPON MAIL TODAY

Please clip list of magazines after checking ones desired. Fill out coupon carefully and mail to your local paper.

Gentlemen: I enclose $ I am checking below the offer desired with a year's subscription to your paper.

I I All-Family I I Super-Value I I Single Magazine

Name: Post Office:

B.R. Province:

MAIL COUPON NOW (OR HAND IT IN) TO THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Canadian soldiers on duty in Iceland are getting along "quite satisfactorily," Defence Minister Ralston told newsmen.

A new order has gone into effect to help Germans wake up late at night. Church bells are to ring only after 1 p.m., following night air raid alarms.

The use of the combine in Canadian agriculture is increasing notably, says Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada. Sales of these harvesting implements rose 97 per cent. last year.

Douglas Aircraft Corporation officials said that United States attack-bombers ordered by the Norwegian government are being delivered in Canada. Thirty-six have been ordered with deliveries to be completed this year.

The Scandinavian wireless reported from Stockholm that the Norwegian town of Harstad had been ordered to post 20 pictures of Hitler in prominent places because young Norwegians had spat at the one picture previously displayed.

A British broadcast picked up at New York by National Broadcasting Company said that Great Britain gained "a total of 1,800,000 tons in additional shipping" because Greece has placed her ships at Britain's disposal.

The lord mayor of London fund for relief of air raid distress now exceeds £1,300,000, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported. The Maharajah of Gwalior, a native Indian state, has sent a recent contribution of £1,500, the BBC said.

Resistance Of Briton

Italians Could Tell Germany Why People Are Holding Out

"How is England able to resist?" asks a Berlin dispatch to Count Ciano's paper, Il Telegrofo de Leghorn. "It is really true that 47,000,000 Britons are 47,000,000 Churchillists, all determined to die under the ruins of the British Empire rather than give in?"

The Germans always appear bewildered when they meet stubborn and prolonged resistance. It is not perhaps, so much because they do not comprehend the never-say-die spirit, as that they genuinely wonder why some foreign peoples are so reluctant to share the benefits of Teuton culture. Berlin's surprise at English doggedness is not reflected, but real.

It is curious, however, that such surprises should be expressed in an Italian newspaper. Under all the German laws of war, Italy was thoroughly beaten by the Austro-German armies at Caporetto in the fall of 1917. Germany wondered then why Rome did not call quits. But the Italians, though beaten, fought on, as the British are doing to-day. They fought on for a year, or until the triumph of Vittorio Veneto and the collapse and capitulation of Austria.

Surely not all Italians have forgotten how it felt, 23 years ago, to refuse to admit defeat, to battle on until defeat was turned to victory. Let those Italians who remember the pride and the glory of that feeling try to explain it to their German allies.—New York Sun.

Was Doubly Valuable

Spy In Rome Hotel Was Also An Excellent Waiter

A foreign correspondent in Rome became inevitably aware that the waiter who attended to him at his hotel was a spy. The correspondent is broad-minded about spies, but this one made such a nuisance of himself hanging around the table and listening for significant conversation that he finally complained to the hotel manager. The manager wasn't very helpful. "What can I do?" he asked. "I could fire him, but the next spy might be such a good waiter."

Learned Something

"Yes, I was on the Lancastria, when she was sunk at Dunkirk," a British engineer related in New York. "When the ship keeled over, while I was in the water, the only thing I could think of was that after 22 years at sea, I never had seen the inside of a ship's funnel, and this was the first time. It's gray."

All lovely things, they say, meet in loveliness again.

Use For Milkweed

Scientists Have Discovered That It Contains Valuable Element

We are now glad to report that the milkweed has at last decided to throw in its lot with civilization. It is no longer just a weed. It can become a crop. Scientists at the University of Chicago have discovered that it is just as good as the tropical papaya plant.

We do not know much about the papaya beyond the fact that about 100 pounds of it are imported into the United States annually. It is used to make meat tender. The ingredient in the papaya which does the tenderizing is papain and papain is an enzyme.

The University of Chicago research workers have discovered that the juice of the milkweed contains ascorbic acid, which works just as well as papain in making meat tender. There are said to be commercial possibilities for the milkweed juice even though the papaya is a richer source of meat tenderizing enzyme, but to realize these possibilities milkweed would have to be cultivated by the field. The commercial possibilities are not believed to be very exciting, however. It will likely be a long time before we shall see deliberately planted fields of milkweed.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Canada Giving Aid

Canadian Red Cross Is Carrying On Splendid Work

At a sub-executive meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society held on October 16th in Toronto, it was decided that of the 10,000 parcels for week for British and Canadian prisoners of war in Germany, the provision of which the Canadian society promised last month on the request of the British Red Cross, 5,000 were packed in Toronto and 5,000 in Montreal. An expect packer is on the way from Britain and the work will be done by volunteers.

The British Red Cross has also requested that the Canadian Society provides 50,000 packages, each containing 3,000 international letters of transit anti-toxin in rubber-stoppered vials, and $10,000 for the purchase of shoes for women and children suffering from air raids in England. The requests will both be filled by the Canadian Red Cross with funds raised in the recent national campaign. Such expenditures and duties are gladly borne here in aid of the British Red Cross and people.

HOME SERVICE

NO ONE DREAMS YOU MADE THIS SEA SHELL NECKLACE

Easy to Do—Using Macaroni!

So smart you'll feel in this pretty piece of color! "sea shell." It has the fragile "tinty" effect that's last word in costume jewelry. And here's how you can easily yourself—from macaroni shells!

You first apply a drop of water to the centre of each shell, using a needle dropper. Then, with a needle, bore a hole through soft-end spot—as in our top diagram.

Then you've prepared seven shells in this way, cut seven pieces of wire 2½ inches long and twist one end of each wire into a flat spiral ¼ inch in diameter.

Now through each tiny shell hole stick a wire—about 12 inches long—dissolve. The spiral ends of the wires rest on the outside of the shell and the other end fastens to your chain—which, if you wish, you can make out of wire.

After all shells are securely fastened, paint them—outside and inside—with enamel in your favorite color. Aqua blue, dusty pink are lovely. You can also dip them in gold and other stunning pieces are given in our 28-page booklet. Includes clips, belts, boutonnieres, necklaces, bracelets, pins. "Tells you how to make raffia and macramé flowers."

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of "Costume Jewelry You Can Easily Make" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man.

The following booklets are also available at 15¢ each:

- 187—"Costumes And Useful Things To Make With Paper."
- 110—"Hand-Made Gift Novelties."
- 113—"Secrets of Successful Candy Making."
- 164—"Party Games For All Occasions."
- 178—"Professional Tricks For Amateur Magicians."
- 182—"Easy Lessons in Guitar Playing."

Blow For Blow

Says Britain Must Pursue Struggle With Determination

Britain must return "blow for blow with harsh and iron determination," writes Lord Queensborough in "Monthly Message," publication of the Royal Society of St. George.

"Every further breach of international law and civilized practice by the enemy must be ruthlessly countered," Lord Queensborough writes. "Our national traditions of fair dealing and generosity to an opponent are deeply ingrained in us. To abandon them, even now is hard and distasteful."

"To cling to them in the face of the enemy's open and loudly proclaimed brutality and treachery is to add to our own dangers and offer advantages to the enemy which he will not fail to grasp."

"We no longer have the right to follow our inclinations—in the name of our own life we must return blow for blow, with harsh and iron determination."

Driving Licenses

Suggestion Made That They Should Be Valid For More Than A Year

A suggestion that the provinces consider issuing driving licenses valid for a period of more than a year was made by J. P. Bickell of Toronto, Ontario Registrar of Motor Vehicles, before the Canadian Good Roads convention at Quebec.

The recommendation was included in the report of the committee on uniform motor vehicle regulations, traffic facilities and supervision, of which Mr. Bickell is chairman.

The recommendation? to extend driving license periods was made in view of the amount of detail involved in the annual renewal of licenses; Mr. Bickell said. He noted that some of the United States issued licenses valid for varying periods of years.

Mr. Bickell's report also recommended that as a safety measure highway plans should include provisions for parking places where motorists could stop and relax after long periods behind the wheels.

Ear Grafting

Loss Of An Ear Can Be Easily Remedied, Say Surgeons

If an ear is torn off in an automobile accident, the American College of Surgeons was advised, it should be saved because weeks or months later it can be put back on and will make a perfectly good new ear.

The report was made by Dr. H. L. D. Kirshner of Houston, Texas. The ear has to be kept in a preservative, but he said that even if it were not found until 24 hours after the accident, it still could be preserved.

Any dead person's ear, if preserved, can be used to make a good ear, he said.

Valuable Pearls

After finding a black pearl valued at $225 in an oyster dug up in the bay, Jan Melring of Mossel Bay, South Africa, gave some of his oysters to Johnnie Johnson, who discovered in one a black pearl worth over $500.

A Scottish scientist in 1749 tied a thermometer to a kite to measure air temperatures at upper levels.

IT COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

In this sixth illustration of a series designed to show how accidents occur and how they can be avoided, is shown the unhappy result of trying to beat a crossing in defiance of common sense. In this case, an actual happening at a Prairie crossing, the driver allowed his emergency brakes, it was not enough. The pilot of the engine caught the car just behind the driver's seat and the speed of the locomotive and the car combined threw the automobile into a heap of twisted wreckage at the side of the road. The driver and one occupant of the car were killed and it could have been avoided.

GAY APRON IS EASY TO MAKE

By Anne Adams

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 10

THE GOLDEN RULE (Armistic Sunday)

Golden text: As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31.

Lesson: Luke 6.

Devotional reading: Matthew 5:43-48.

Explanations and Comments

The Treatment of Diseases, Luke 6:27-31. Jesus now turns from the worldlings upon whom he has been pronouncing woes, and turns them to his followers, and bids them to be loved by them likewise.

The Greek word for "love" in this text is carefully chosen. It is not demanded that we love our enemies with a strong, intense affection (philia), but with a natural, Christian love that comes by grace (agape), the "Expositor's Greek Testament" explains. In the days of Jesus, people revenged upon an enemy were considered noble. How Cicero gloated over the misfortunes of an enemy! He thought self-forgetfulness was declared on his deathbed, that he should say no one had done more good to his friends nor more mischief to his enemies.

Friends hate you, curse you, despisingly—feeling "the three stages of enmity"—feeling, speech, deed"; to them you must do good, must bless them and pray for them.

The Golden Rule, Luke 6:30, 31. By this words Jesus includes the duty of giving service. To rightly understand them, and similar sayings of Jesus, we must keep in mind what he was wont to use of speech when addressing his hearers.

You may trim it with buttons, ruffles, ric-rac, or give effectiveness to the few simple lines of the front, with its long panel which may be bias-cut. You can choose between a bias or a straight neckline. The ingenious treatment of the back-panel keeps the straps firmly UP, where they belong. Select a colorful cotton for this apron—and use the following Instructor for clear directions.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

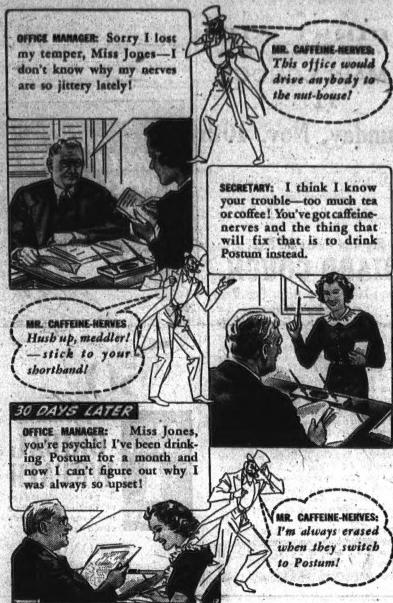

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pattern 4588 is available in sizes (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Price, 25¢. Send 2½ yards 35 inch fabric; 2½ yards 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin to the following address: Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newsprint Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Mr. Caffeine-Nerves Gets Erased

Many people can safely drink tea and coffee. Many others—and all children—should never drink them. If any one of these, try Postum's 30-day test. Buy Postum and drink it instead of tea and coffee for one month. Then, if you do not feel better, return the container to General Foods, Limited, Cobourg, Ont., and we'll gladly refund full purchase price, plus postage. Postum is delicious, economical, easy to prepare, and contains no caffeine.

POSTUM

The Park Lane Mystery

By Edgar Wallace

Copyright, by Edgar Wallace. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate.

CHAPTER XXIII.—Continued.

A girl stood on the threshold; there were beads of rain on the shoulders and on the little felt hat. In her hand was a streaming umbrella. Mr. Ellenburg had not noticed it was raining.

She was staring at the open suitcase, at the bundles of money, the heaped envelopes. Aileen Rivers had never seen so much money.

"Well!" Ellenburg's voice was a harsh squeak.

"I tried to find your clerk," she said. "The door was open."

Open? In his haste to continue his work Ellenburg had not closed the outer door—had not even shut the door beyond the baize.

He recognized her.

"You're Stebbings girl," he said breathlessly. "What do you want?"

She took from her bag a folded envelope. Some leaves of the late Miss Alice Harlow had fallen in, and by some oversight, as Mr. Stebbings found, they had not been included in the legacy. He tried to read the letter; tried hard to put out of his mind the all-important, the vital happening—two grave eyes watching through a glass oval—watching bundles of money in suitcases, in envelopes . . .

"Oh," he said blankly. "I see . . . something about leases. I'll attend to that tomorrow."

"Mr. Harlow knows," she said. "We telephoned to him early this afternoon, and he asked us to notify you and bring the particulars to his house to-night."

At that he jerked up his head. "You're going to Harlow—now?" he stammered.

HEALTHY LIVER RESISTS COLDS

Stimulate your liver—keep it strong—protect it from colds and other ills. With a healthy liver you'll feel well and strong. Play safe as thousands do—by taking your liver with Fruit-a-tives. Feel good, live well.

FRUIT-A-TIVES Canada's Largest Selling Liver Tablets

"There will be time—it is an old man's request; unreasonable—I realize that."

He looked very old and mean and unhappy.

"Is it far?"

He told her the exact position of his house—described the nearest route. What would happen after, he did not know. There would be time to consider that. Something dreadful. To keep her away from Harlow—her lover, perhaps. That was the first consideration. His seats were booked, the cabin reserved; he left in the morning by the early train. Why not Ostend? These by-thoughts insisted on confusing him.

"Could I telephone to Mr. Stebbings?"

"I'll do that." He was almost jovial. "When you can, young lady, is to help me pack the two cases. A lot of money, eh? All Harlow's, all Harlow's! A clever move!"

She nodded as she gathered up the bundles of bills.

"Yes—very clever."

"A good fellow?"

"She wasn't sure of this; he thought she was dissembling a new affection. Obviously, she was fond of Harlow. Otherwise, since she was a known friend of Jim Carlton she must express her abhorrence. He had escaped a very real danger.

She had forgotten that he had promised to telephone until the car, waiting all this time in the soaking rain, was moving down Kingway.

"I have a phone at my house," he said.

It is true that he had a telephone—private wire into Mr. Harlow's library. But he was hardly likely to use it.

Crouched up in a corner of the car, the suitcases at his feet, knocking at his knees as the machine slowed or accelerated, he talked about his wife, but thought of the girl by his side. And he reached this conclusion: she was the one person in the world who could betray him.

The old person in the world who knew that he had two large suitcases filled with money, necessary that he could fetch back manager and Harlow and certain members of the Rata's staff, and so he forgot them: A bit of a girl to stand between him and a wonderful future. Picture galleries sunlight on striped awnings, great masses of flowers blooming under blue skies; what time fog and rain clouds pulled this fair city, and liquid mud splashed at the windows of the hired car.

They were nearing the house when he dropped the window and leaned out on the driver's side.

"The house is the fourth from the next side road. Stop before the gates; don't go into the drive, and wait for a few minutes before you drive away."

He pushed three notes into the man's hand; the gum-chewing driver examined them by the light on his instrument board and seemed satisfied.

"Do you mind if we stop at the gate? It is only a little walk up the drive—my wife is so nervous, starts at every sound."

Aileen did not object. When they alighted in the muddy road, she offered to carry one of the cases, and he conceded. It was heavier than she expected.

"Here's all Harlow's," he muttered as he walked through the ugly gates and bent his head to the drive of rain. "Out of his jokes?"

"What do you mean by 'jokes'?" he asked.

"Harlow's jokes . . . difficult . . . explain." The wind tore words out of his speech.

She could see the house; square, lifeless.

"To the left—we go in at the back."

They were following a clinder path that ran snakily through the bare stems of rose bushes. Ahead of her she saw a squat building of some sort. It was the furnace house of the conservatories, he told her.

"There are two steps down." Why on earth were they going into a hothouse at this time of night?

He answered the question she had not put.

"Safe . . . lock away . . . cases."

He could imagine the swift conclusions that would follow.

"My wife is very ill—the wheels creaked a little—very ill. She hasn't been out of bed for 20 years." His weak mouth dropped pathetically. "It is strange . . . your coming like this. She asked about you this morning."

"About me?" Aileen could hardly believe her ears. "But I don't know her!"

"She knows you—knew you when you were a child—knew your mother or your father. I'm not sure which."

He was on safe ground here, though he was not sure of this. "Curious . . . I intended calling at Stebbings' to ask you . . . the car would bring you back."

"To see Mrs. Ellenburg tonight?"

She was incredulous. Mr. Ellenburg nodded his head.

"But—I've promised to go to Mr. Harlow's house."

"There will be time—it is an old man's request; unreasonable—I realize that."

He looked very old and mean and unhappy.

"Is it far?"

He told her the exact position of his house—described the nearest route. What would happen after, he did not know. There would be time to consider that. Something dreadful.

To keep her away from Harlow—her lover, perhaps. That was the first consideration. His seats were booked, the cabin reserved; he left in the morning by the early train. Why not Ostend? These by-thoughts insisted on confusing him.

"Could I telephone to Mr. Stebbings?"

"I'll do that." He was almost jovial. "When you can, young lady, is to help me pack the two cases. A lot of money, eh? All Harlow's, all Harlow's! A clever move!"

She nodded as she gathered up the bundles of bills.

"Yes—very clever."

"A good fellow?"

"She wasn't sure of this; he thought she was dissembling a new affection. Obviously, she was fond of Harlow. Otherwise, since she was a known friend of Jim Carlton she must express her abhorrence. He had escaped a very real danger.

She had forgotten that he had promised to telephone until the car, waiting all this time in the soaking rain, was moving down Kingway.

"I have a phone at my house," he said.

It is true that he had a telephone—private wire into Mr. Harlow's library. But he was hardly likely to use it.

Crouched up in a corner of the car, the suitcases at his feet, knocking at his knees as the machine slowed or accelerated, he talked about his wife, but thought of the girl by his side. And he reached this conclusion: she was the one person in the world who could betray him.

The old person in the world who knew that he had two large suitcases filled with money, necessary that he could fetch back manager and Harlow and certain members of the Rata's staff, and so he forgot them: A bit of a girl to stand between him and a wonderful future. Picture galleries sunlight on striped awnings, great masses of flowers blooming under blue skies; what time fog and rain clouds pulled this fair city, and liquid mud splashed at the windows of the hired car.

They were nearing the house when he dropped the window and leaned out on the driver's side.

"The house is the fourth from the next side road. Stop before the gates; don't go into the drive, and wait for a few minutes before you drive away."

He pushed three notes into the man's hand; the gum-chewing driver examined them by the light on his instrument board and seemed satisfied.

"Do you mind if we stop at the gate? It is only a little walk up the drive—my wife is so nervous, starts at every sound."

Aileen did not object. When they alighted in the muddy road, she offered to carry one of the cases, and he conceded. It was heavier than she expected.

"Here's all Harlow's," he muttered as he walked through the ugly gates and bent his head to the drive of rain. "Out of his jokes?"

"What do you mean by 'jokes'?" he asked.

"Harlow's jokes . . . difficult . . . explain." The wind tore words out of his speech.

She could see the house; square, lifeless.

"To the left—we go in at the back."

They were following a clinder path that ran snakily through the bare stems of rose bushes. Ahead of her she saw a squat building of some sort. It was the furnace house of the conservatories, he told her.

"There are two steps down." Why on earth were they going into a hothouse at this time of night?

He answered the question she had not put.

"Safe . . . lock away . . . cases."

He could imagine the swift conclusions that would follow.

"My wife is very ill—the wheels creaked a little—very ill. She hasn't been out of bed for 20 years." His weak mouth dropped pathetically. "It is strange . . . your coming like this. She asked about you this morning."

"About me?" Aileen could hardly believe her ears. "But I don't know her!"

"She knows you—knew you when you were a child—knew your mother or your father. I'm not sure which."

He was on safe ground here, though he was not sure of this. "Curious . . . I intended calling at Stebbings' to ask you . . . the car would bring you back."

"To see Mrs. Ellenburg tonight?"

She was incredulous. Mr. Ellenburg nodded his head.

"But—I've promised to go to Mr. Harlow's house."

"There will be time—it is an old man's request; unreasonable—I realize that."

He looked very old and mean and unhappy.

"Is it far?"

He told her the exact position of his house—described the nearest route. What would happen after, he did not know. There would be time to consider that. Something dreadful.

To keep her away from Harlow—her lover, perhaps. That was the first consideration. His seats were booked, the cabin reserved; he left in the morning by the early train. Why not Ostend? These by-thoughts insisted on confusing him.

"Could I telephone to Mr. Stebbings?"

"I'll do that." He was almost jovial. "When you can, young lady, is to help me pack the two cases. A lot of money, eh? All Harlow's, all Harlow's! A clever move!"

She nodded as she gathered up the bundles of bills.

"Yes—very clever."

"A good fellow?"

"She wasn't sure of this; he thought she was dissembling a new affection. Obviously, she was fond of Harlow. Otherwise, since she was a known friend of Jim Carlton she must express her abhorrence. He had escaped a very real danger.

She had forgotten that he had promised to telephone until the car, waiting all this time in the soaking rain, was moving down Kingway.

"I have a phone at my house," he said.

It is true that he had a telephone—private wire into Mr. Harlow's library. But he was hardly likely to use it.

Crouched up in a corner of the car, the suitcases at his feet, knocking at his knees as the machine slowed or accelerated, he talked about his wife, but thought of the girl by his side. And he reached this conclusion: she was the one person in the world who could betray him.

The old person in the world who knew that he had two large suitcases filled with money, necessary that he could fetch back manager and Harlow and certain members of the Rata's staff, and so he forgot them: A bit of a girl to stand between him and a wonderful future. Picture galleries sunlight on striped awnings, great masses of flowers blooming under blue skies; what time fog and rain clouds pulled this fair city, and liquid mud splashed at the windows of the hired car.

They were nearing the house when he dropped the window and leaned out on the driver's side.

"The house is the fourth from the next side road. Stop before the gates; don't go into the drive, and wait for a few minutes before you drive away."

He pushed three notes into the man's hand; the gum-chewing driver examined them by the light on his instrument board and seemed satisfied.

"Do you mind if we stop at the gate? It is only a little walk up the drive—my wife is so nervous, starts at every sound."

Aileen did not object. When they alighted in the muddy road, she offered to carry one of the cases, and he conceded. It was heavier than she expected.

"Here's all Harlow's," he muttered as he walked through the ugly gates and bent his head to the drive of rain. "Out of his jokes?"

"What do you mean by 'jokes'?" he asked.

"Harlow's jokes . . . difficult . . . explain." The wind tore words out of his speech.

She could see the house; square, lifeless.

"To the left—we go in at the back."

They were following a clinder path that ran snakily through the bare stems of rose bushes. Ahead of her she saw a squat building of some sort. It was the furnace house of the conservatories, he told her.

"There are two steps down." Why on earth were they going into a hothouse at this time of night?

He answered the question she had not put.

"Safe . . . lock away . . . cases."

He could imagine the swift conclusions that would follow.

"My wife is very ill—the wheels creaked a little—very ill. She hasn't been out of bed for 20 years." His weak mouth dropped pathetically. "It is strange . . . your coming like this. She asked about you this morning."

"About me?" Aileen could hardly believe her ears. "But I don't know her!"

"She knows you—knew you when you were a child—knew your mother or your father. I'm not sure which."

He was on safe ground here, though he was not sure of this. "Curious . . . I intended calling at Stebbings' to ask you . . . the car would bring you back."

"To see Mrs. Ellenburg tonight?"

She was incredulous. Mr. Ellenburg nodded his head.

"But—I've promised to go to Mr. Harlow's house."

"There will be time—it is an old man's request; unreasonable—I realize that."

He looked very old and mean and unhappy.

"Is it far?"

He told her the exact position of his house—described the nearest route. What would happen after, he did not know. There would be time to consider that. Something dreadful.

To keep her away from Harlow—her lover, perhaps. That was the first consideration. His seats were booked, the cabin reserved; he left in the morning by the early train. Why not Ostend? These by-thoughts insisted on confusing him.

"Could I telephone to Mr. Stebbings?"

"I'll do that." He was almost jovial. "When you can, young lady, is to help me pack the two cases. A lot of money, eh? All Harlow's, all Harlow's! A clever move!"

She nodded as she gathered up the bundles of bills.

"Yes—very clever."

"A good fellow?"

"She wasn't sure of this; he thought she was dissembling a new affection. Obviously, she was fond of Harlow. Otherwise, since she was a known friend of Jim Carlton she must express her abhorrence. He had escaped a very real danger.

She had forgotten that he had promised to telephone until the car, waiting all this time in the soaking rain, was moving down Kingway.

"I have a phone at my house," he said.

It is true that he had a telephone—private wire into Mr. Harlow's library. But he was hardly likely to use it.

Crouched up in a corner of the car, the suitcases at his feet, knocking at his knees as the machine slowed or accelerated, he talked about his wife, but thought of the girl by his side. And he reached this conclusion: she was the one person in the world who could betray him.

The old person in the world who knew that he had two large suitcases filled with money, necessary that he could fetch back manager and Harlow and certain members of the Rata's staff, and so he forgot them: A bit of a girl to stand between him and a wonderful future. Picture galleries sunlight on striped awnings, great masses of flowers blooming under blue skies; what time fog and rain clouds pulled this fair city, and liquid mud splashed at the windows of the hired car.

They were nearing the house when he dropped the window and leaned out on the driver's side.

"The house is the fourth from the next side road. Stop before the gates; don't go into the drive, and wait for a few minutes before you drive away."

He pushed three notes into the man's hand; the gum-chewing driver examined them by the light on his instrument board and seemed satisfied.

"Do you mind if we stop at the gate? It is only a little walk up the drive—my wife is so nervous, starts at every sound."

Aileen did not object. When they alighted in the muddy road, she offered to carry one of the cases, and he conceded. It was heavier than she expected.

"Here's all Harlow's," he muttered as he walked through the ugly gates and bent his head to the drive of rain. "Out of his jokes?"

"What do you mean by 'jokes'?" he asked.

"Harlow's jokes . . . difficult . . . explain." The wind tore words out of his speech.

She could see the house; square, lifeless.

"To the left—we go in at the back."

They were following a clinder path that ran snakily through the bare stems of rose bushes. Ahead of her she saw a squat building of some sort. It was the furnace house of the conservatories, he told her.

"There are two steps down." Why on earth were they going into a hothouse at this time of night?

He answered the question she had not put.

"Safe . . . lock away . . . cases."

He could imagine the swift conclusions that would follow.

"My wife is very ill—the wheels creaked a little—very ill. She hasn't been out of bed for 20 years." His weak mouth dropped pathetically. "It is strange . . . your coming like this. She asked about you this morning."

"About me?" Aileen could hardly believe her ears. "But I don't know her!"

"She knows you—knew you when you were a child—knew your mother or your father. I'm not sure which."

He was on safe ground here, though he was not sure of this. "Curious . . . I intended calling at Stebbings' to ask you . . . the car would bring you back."

"To see Mrs. Ellenburg tonight?"

She was incredulous. Mr. Ellenburg nodded his head.

"But—I've promised to go to Mr. Harlow's house."

"There will be time—it is an old man's request; unreasonable—I realize that."

He looked very old and mean and unhappy.

"Is it far?"

He told her the exact position of his house—described the nearest route. What would happen after, he did not know. There would be time to consider that. Something dreadful.

To keep her away from Harlow—her lover, perhaps. That was the first consideration. His seats were booked, the cabin reserved; he left in the morning by the early train. Why not Ostend? These by-thoughts insisted on confusing him.

"Could I telephone to Mr. Stebbings?"

"I'll do that." He was almost jovial. "When you can, young lady, is to help me pack the two cases. A lot of money, eh? All Harlow's, all Harlow's! A clever move!"

She nodded as she gathered up the bundles of bills.

"Yes—very clever."

"A good fellow?"

"She wasn't sure of this; he thought she was dissembling a new affection. Obviously, she was fond of Harlow. Otherwise, since she was a known friend of Jim Carlton she must express her abhorrence. He had escaped a very real danger.

She had forgotten that he had promised to telephone until the car, waiting all this time in the soaking rain, was moving down Kingway.

"I have a phone at my house," he said.

It is true that he had a telephone—private wire into Mr. Harlow's library. But he was hardly likely to use it.

Crouched up in a corner of the car, the suitcases at his feet, knocking at his knees as the machine slowed or accelerated, he talked about his wife, but thought of the girl by his side. And he reached this conclusion: she was the one person in the world who could betray him.

The old person in the world who knew that he had two large suitcases filled with money, necessary that he could fetch back manager and Harlow and certain members of the Rata's staff, and so he forgot them: A bit of a girl to stand between him and a wonderful future. Picture galleries sunlight on striped awnings, great masses of flowers blooming under blue skies; what time fog and rain clouds pulled this fair city, and liquid mud splashed at the windows of the hired car.

They were nearing the house when he dropped the window and leaned out on the driver's side.

Carry your registration certificate.

DENTISTRYR. K. Lillie, D.D.S., L.D.S.
Graduate N. U. D. S., ChicagoHOURLY:Cobham—9 to 12
Blairmore—Afternoon 1 to 6
Evenings by AppointmentPHONES:

Both Offices 3322 — Residence 3323

The sunshine drink... brimful of delicious refreshment!
At beverage stands everywhere,
THE FULL FLAVOR OF THE FRESH FRUIT!

Manufactured by
CROWS' NEST BOTTLING WORKS
M. Sartoris, Prop. — Phone 293

Blairmore Alberta

A new delicacy is said to be mozzarella sausage with grecce on top.

Roy reported a small bush fire in his stubble on Sunday last, caused by a lighted cigarette. He's thinking seriously of using the razor soon.

Z. W. Jacobs, Cardston barrister, appeared before the Supreme Court of Alberta on Monday to receive official recognition as a King's counsel.

Mrs. Arthur Blake and young son returned last week end from a visit of several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughn, at Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Hallowe'en passed off quietly in Blairmore. The presence of special constables had the desired effect. Kiddies, however, were well received and had an enjoyable time.

Angus J. Morrison, M.L.A., has been asked by the Edmonton Board of Trade to convene a meeting at Coalipur of representatives from the various districts desiring a highway outlet for the Coal Branch.

Auction Sale of Timber

CROWNST - BOW RIVER FOREST RESERVE

TIMBER SALE No. 275

The right to cut certain timber on the following lands will be offered at public auction at the office of Forest Ranger J. H. Boulton at Coleman, Alberta, at 2:00 o'clock P.M. on Monday the Second day of December, 1940.

The West half of Section 17, the North West quarter and the West half of Legal Subdivisions 10 and 15 of the school section in Township 7, Range 4, West of the 9th Meridian, an area of approximately 81 square miles, more or less.

On these lands there is estimated to be 100,000 feet of timber, three and four foot measure of Green Spruce and Pine timber suitable for the manufacture of lumber and other forest products, but only such timber shall be cut as is marked or otherwise designated.

The sale will be offered at an upset price of fifteen cents per thousand feet board measure less than the rate paid for the school section of the Forest Reserve. Regulation on sale logs, all other products at the rates prescribed by the Forest Reserve Regulations.

The purchaser will be allowed until May 1st, 1945, to cut and remove all timber covered by the conditions of sale.

Each bidder will be required to deposit with the officer conducting the sale the sum of $1,000.00 in cash, bank draft or accepted cheque on any chartered bank in Canada or by certified treasury branch order cheque or certified non-negotiable transfer cheque payable to the Provincial Forester. Bidders will be allowed to bid. Agents will be required to file letters of authorization from their principals before bidding. The deposit will be forfeited if the bidder fails to return to them at the conclusion of the sale and that the purchaser held as deposit to guarantee compliance with the terms and conditions of sale.

Full particulars may be obtained from the Forest Superintendent, New Telephone Building, Calgary, Alberta, or the Director of Forestry, Edmonton, Alberta.

T. E. BLEFGEN,

Director of Forestry,
Department of Lands and Mines,
Edmonton, Alberta,
November 2nd, 1940.

Flight Lieutenant Alex. McDowell arrived in Blairmore on Monday on a brief visit with his father, Mr. Sam McDowell, and friends, before taking up flight training duties.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Powell, of Calgary, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. A. John Budge, son of Mrs. John Budge and the late Mr. Budge, of Calgary, the marriage to take place the middle of this month.

As a Hallowe'en prank, a gang of youths (or older) destroyed forty tombstones in a cemetery at Guelph, Ontario. Some of the tombstones were upwards of 100 years old. It's sure beyond a joke and not in the spirit of Hallowe'en.

The oldest woman in Newfoundland, Mrs. Ellen Carroll, North River, Conception Bay, celebrated her 113th birthday on October 18th. Sir John Puddister presented her with (not prosperity certificates) 113 dollar notes on behalf of the commission government.

An invitation has been received by Blairmore Lodge of Elks to attend a meeting in Macleod on Tuesday night next. The contingent will travel in about twelve private cars, which will likely be augmented by several carloads from Coleman. It is requested that all members shed their antlers before leaving, as there will not be room in the closed cars. The cars will not be convoyed.

Around one hundred members of the herd attended the regular meeting of the local lodge of Elks on Tuesday night, when a class of eight were impounded for training. Following the meeting a delicious chicken-macaroni supper was served. A delegation of Coleman Elks, headed by Max Stigler and Frank Barrington, accompanied the travelling gavel to be presented with the regular prescribed ceremony.

Local and General Items

The Editor will be glad to receive items for this section, regarding visitors entertained, parties leaving for holidays or short trips, bridge parties, teas, showers, presentations, anniversaries, etc. Phone items in to 11 or hand them in at The Enterprise office not later than Thursday evenings.

Newfoundland is to have national registration.

"Opportunity knocks but once!" November 13th, St. Anne's Bazaar.

Another raider of the Graf Spee type is at work in mid-Atlantic. Page the Ajax!

There were no deaths from the excessive heat in Blairmore on Thursday morning.

A white icicle radish weighing 10½ pounds was grown in the Raymond district this year.

Ten and Sale, Wednesday afternoon, Bingo and Tombola Draw in the evening, November 13th.

W. A. "Swogger" Cory has sold out his druggist business at Brooks to W. C. Masters, of Tompkins, Sask.

A guy on Saturday approached the proprietor of the Cosmopolitan hotel and addressed him thusly: "Hello, Messerschmidt!"

"Barbar, by far,
Without a par."

Wednesday, November 13th,
Columbus Hall.

John L. Lewis is supposed to live up to his promise that if Willkie was not elected he would resign as head of the C.I.O. Oh ya!

Rev. Peter Dawson, M.L.A. for Little Bow, has again been chosen by the Social Credit caucus as speaker of the Alberta legislature.

Eighteen herring fishermen subscribed five tubs of herring each to the West Newfoundland spifire fund. The total realized $72.00.

Rev. Ashford, of Calgary, is now calling for a crusade against vice. That crusade should afford lots of scope for modification of public statements.

Flight Lieutenant Alex. McDowell arrived in Blairmore on Monday on a brief visit with his father, Mr. Sam McDowell, and friends, before taking up flight training duties.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Powell, of Calgary, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. A. John Budge, son of Mrs. John Budge and the late Mr. Budge, of Calgary, the marriage to take place the middle of this month.

As a Hallowe'en prank, a gang of youths (or older) destroyed forty tombstones in a cemetery at Guelph, Ontario. Some of the tombstones were upwards of 100 years old. It's sure beyond a joke and not in the spirit of Hallowe'en.

The oldest woman in Newfoundland, Mrs. Ellen Carroll, North River, Conception Bay, celebrated her 113th birthday on October 18th. Sir John Puddister presented her with (not prosperity certificates) 113 dollar notes on behalf of the commission government.

An invitation has been received by Blairmore Lodge of Elks to attend a meeting in Macleod on Tuesday night next. The contingent will travel in about twelve private cars, which will likely be augmented by several carloads from Coleman. It is requested that all members shed their antlers before leaving, as there will not be room in the closed cars. The cars will not be convoyed.

Around one hundred members of the herd attended the regular meeting of the local lodge of Elks on Tuesday night, when a class of eight were impounded for training. Following the meeting a delicious chicken-macaroni supper was served. A delegation of Coleman Elks, headed by Max Stigler and Frank Barrington, accompanied the travelling gavel to be presented with the regular prescribed ceremony.

OPENING CLASS

in
FIRST AID
(MALE)
MAIN SCHOOL
11 A.M.

Sunday, Nov. 10th

All interested are invited to attend

Members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion will celebrate the Armistice of the last Great War by a smoker in their clubrooms on Tuesday night next, November 12th. A splendid program will be arranged.

S TRONO
Jeweler - Watchmaker
BLAIRMORE ALBERTA

THE EVENT OF THE AUTUMN SEASON

St. Anne's Bazaar

3 to 6, Wednesday Afternoon, Nov. 13th

Hand-Embroidered Goods, Cut Work, Aprons, Grab Boxes, Home Cooking, Home-Made Candy, etc. Fish Pond for the Kiddies.

Christmas Novelties

TEA: A FREE CHANCE ON A BEAUTIFUL CAKE
TO EVERY CUSTOMER.

8 to 12 — EVENING ATTRACTIONS — 8 to 12
Bingo, Etc. — Tombola Drawing 11.30

Prizes on Display in Blairmore Hardware Window

COLUMBUS HALL — BLAIRMORE

Mr. Businessman - Check your supplies of

All your business forms can be neatly printed by

The Blairmore Enterprise

Quotations on any type of printing gladly given.

High Quality - Low Prices

Phone 11 for Prompt Service

Letterheads
Envelopes
Statements
Ledger Sheets
Sales Books
Cheques, etc.

Let Us Demonstrate
THE NEW 1940 CHEVROLET*Combined Comfort - Economy - Style

WE CARRY
PHILCO and WESTINGHOUSE RADIOS
and are Prepared to Give You First-Class Service

Grease - Oil - Gas - Anti-Freeze - Heaters

CROWS' NEST PASS MOTORS

— CHEVROLET and OLDSMOBILE DEALERS —
WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATORS —

BLAIRMORE —

Phone 105

LADIES' SUITS

ARE MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

Have your Tailored Costume Measured and Fitted where Perfect Satisfaction is Assured

— PRICED AS LOW AS $25.00 —

Hundreds of Samples to Choose From

LADIES' TAILOR — J. E. UPTON —
FORTY-FIVE Years in the Business.

GENTS' TAILOR
ALBERTA

A Big Bargain

We have completed arrangements with The Calgary Herald, by which we are able to offer

THE CALGARY DAILY HERALD
AND
THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE

Both for 1 Year $8.60

To THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE,

Blairmore, Alberta.

I enclose herewith the sum of EIGHT DOLLARS and SIXTY CENTS in payment of my subscription to The Calgary Daily Herald and The Blairmore Enterprise, both for one year. The papers are to be addressed as follows:

Subscriber's NAME

ADDRESS

MAIL COUPON TODAY TO
THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE
Blairmore, Alberta